Practice Areas: General Litigation | Professional Liability

Kohl Schneider focuses his law practice in all areas of construction law, professional liability, and general litigation. Kohl has been a litigator and advisor for construction professionals, architects and engineers for over two decades. His clients include general contractors, owners, CMs, design professionals, suppliers, developers, design/builders and specialty trades. He has experience on a wide array of projects from small residential construction disputes to complex commercial litigation.

Kohl appreciates the benefits of ADR and pre-litigation resolution strategies when appropriate for his clients. When litigation or arbitration is advisable, Kohl has extensive experience in all phases of arbitration, mediation, and litigation. He has successfully tried cases as lead counsel in over a dozen jurisdictions throughout Ohio.
